

Reach Website

Client: The Reach Foundation

"Working with the team at Cerebrum on the new Reach website was an absolute pleasure. The guys were always patient, professional and really delivered the solutions we were after."

"This project was challenging as there are many different markets we need our site to appeal to, Cerebrum made the project work smoothly and always had helpful suggestions."

- Sarah McDonald - Manager, Marketing & Relationships

Cerebrum donated its time to redevelop the Reach website to allow for multiple users to keep content easily updated. Working with a design and usability team, Reach management and a group of young people, Cerebrum was instrumental in pulling together a site which not only reflects the spirit of the organisation but has become an integral part of their marketing strategy.
